ADOPTS THE GOLD STANDARD.

On November 30, Russia became a gold standard nation. On that date an imperial ukase was issued by Czar Nicholas by which the finances of the Russian nation were placed on a gold basis. For many years Russia has been making preparations for this important step for many years. Russia has been quietly purchasing gold until now she has over $500,000,000 in gold in the imperial treasury. Russia has practically been on a paper basis, though theoretically on a silver basis. The effect of the imperial ukase is in reality an augmentation of specie payments, for by it the state credit notes, which are similar to our greenbacks, are now redeemable in gold to an unlimited amount. This abandonment of the silver standard by Russia is a historic event in the financial world, and places that country upon the plane now occupied by England, the United States, France, Germany, Austria, Japan, Holland and all the other chief nations of the world.

A LITTLE HISTORY.

The manager of the Register, evidently realizing the ridiculousness of his position in bringing suit against the Six Publishing Co., publishes in the Register of Saturday morning, what Sam Jones would call, a few exculpatory remarks. His attitude is by no means an enviable one. He has placed himself in the same category with the borrower who pleads usury, the gambler who pleads the gambling act and the coward who acts the bully. The libel suit by the manager of the Register is the culmination of a persistent attempt on his part to wreck the Six. Hardly had the Six gotten well started when his venomous spirit began to manifest itself. He has made time and again the most positive statements about the Six's circulation, although totally ignorant about it—even going so far as to state positively in the columns of his paper that the manager of the Six had sworn to a lie in making a circulation affidavit. He has carried his business opposition much further than that generous rivalry which should characterize competing concerns—he having made it a practice to prejudice advertisers whenever possible, both at home and abroad, against the Six. In every way possible, by personal insinuations, by political attacks and in business dealings, the manager of the Register has displayed his malicious spirit towards the Six and its manager.

Things went on this way for nearly a year with nothing more than an occasional retort from the Six. The manager of the Register is well known to the business men of Paducah. The petty spite which he has held towards the Six and the childish and malicious manner he had of showing it, were but well known characteristics of his. From him that generous business rivalry for which the journalistic profession is noted, was not expected. For these reasons the Six paid little or no attention to his course.

When, however, the late campaign opened, the Register, a reputed Democratic paper, though too cowardly to take a position on the one prominent issue, because openly the organ of a Republican faction, attempted to take a hand in Republican politics and again made the Six and its manager the special object of its malicious attacks. This being a political affair, the Six then took up the discussion, and while desiring to avoid personalities, it was compelled at times to make a few personal remarks relative to the manager of the Register.

SUPPER FOR THE POOR.

Ladies of the Baptist Church to Remember the Unfortunate.

The ladies of the First Baptist church are making arrangements to give a mammoth supper to the poor of the city on the Tuesday following Christmas day, Dec. 28.

The spread will be given in the basement of the church, at Fifth and Jefferson, and will lack nothing in the way of variety, quantity or quality, and it will be quite a novelty in Paducah. Preparations will be made for feeding hundreds of people.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by the use of the Knefling Ears. When this time you are informed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the true restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Time cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will cure you by the Knefling Ears. In case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that will not cure by the Knefling Ears. Send for circular free.

Sold by Druggists, or by J. C. Knefling & Co., Toledo, O. Knefling's Family Pills are the best.

THE Y. M. C. A. "PAYS."

"From a strictly utilitarian point of view the work pays," said Vice President Theodore Voorhees, of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, with reference to the Young Men's Christian Associations along the line of his road. "The work of the association," he further said, "is directly in the interest of economy, and any money expended to make moral, sober men, is well invested and will bring manifold returns in better service."

If the representative of this great railroad system can see in the Young Men's Christian Association an agency that is of practical service in improving the service of the men in employ it is reasonable to suppose that merchants, business men and Paducah should take a great interest in the branch of the association in this city. The organization is the best.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE

To the Departed Members of the B. P. O. E.—Large Crowd at Elks' Hall.

The Solemn Roll Call of the Dead Answered by the Sign of Sorow—In Memory of Alfr. Roger and Henry Lahr.

The memorial services at Elks' hall yesterday afternoon were simple, but impressive. The attendance was large, both of Elks and of spectators, and the hall was tastefully arranged for the occasion.

Shortly after 3 o'clock the members of the lodge, properly clothed, marched in from the reception room, and occupied seats against the wall, on each side of the room.

Exalted Ruler, Mr. M. W. Johnson, after the proper preliminaries, declared the lodge in session, and deputed the roll call.

"Alfr. P. Rogers—Alfr. P. Rogers," the secretary called. There was no response. "Henry Lahr—Henry Lahr," and again no response. There was an impressive silence, and then, after the words "They answer not," at the exalted ruler's command, the lodge gave the "sign of grief"—a pretty symbol of sorrow made by placing the left hand on the right elbow, and raising the right hand to the eyes, then with bowed head removed the uplifted hand as if brushing the tears from the eyes.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, invoked divine blessing, after which Miss Camille A. Baird creditably sang "Angels Bright and Angels Fair."

Exalted Ruler Mr. M. W. Johnson delivered a brief address on "Memorial Service," embodying the announcement that the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks have set aside for memorial services in honor of departed brothers the first Sunday in each December, and memorial services are held on that day throughout the country.

Mr. J. M. Worten, the well known attorney, followed in a touching eulogy on the late Mr. Alfr. P. Rogers, who died last January. His words were well chosen, and in a modest, but convincing manner, reminded those present who knew Alfr. Rogers of the many noble traits possessed by him. And the speaker touched a responsive chord in the heart of more than one when he quoted the motto so familiar to Elks, "The faults of our brothers we write in sand, their virtues on tablets of stone," and concluded, "In the life of Brother Alfr. Rogers, there were no inscriptions to write in sand."

Equally eloquent and impressive was Attorney Hensley G. Harris, in his eulogy on the late Mr. Henry Lahr, who died in Evansville last July. Mr. Harris held the close attention of his hearers throughout his remarks, and paid a glowing tribute to the life of the departed.

The lodge, quiescent, composed of Messrs. A. W. Gidd, Will Koley, Dr. C. E. Whitesides, A. C. Atkins and Albert Biech rendered "In Memoriam," and the next musical number following the eulogy on Mr. Lahr was "Know that My Redeemer Liveth" (Hendel), by Miss Emma Hart, rendered in her usual artistic style.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton then addressed the meeting on "Fraternity," and in addition to his remarks about the departed, highly praised the order of Elks for the elevating principles it enunciates and practices.

"The ode, 'One Sweetly Solemn Thought,'" by Prof. H. O. Farnham, was beautifully sung by Miss Baird and the lodge quartette.

The closing ceremonies were exceedingly pretty. At the opening of the session, there was a deep pathos in the silence that followed the roll call of the dead, but the closing ceremony was beautiful for the touching devotion it symbolized.

"Is there any other sign you can give?" asked the exalted ruler.

And at this each Elk removed from the lapel of his coat a tiny sprig of forget-me-nots, which were collected by the ushers and deposited in an urn on the altar.

After the doxology, Rev. Pinkerton pronounced benediction.

To Prof. H. O. Farnham, the lodge organist, is due much credit for the success of the services. The ushers were Messrs. Matt Carney, Roy Dawson, Dick Clements and A. C. Atkins.
